In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the aforesaid financial statements give the information required by the Companies Act, 2013 ("Act") in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, of the state of affairs of the Company as at 31 March 2024, and its loss and other comprehensive loss, changes in equity and its cash flows for the year ended on that date.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing (SAs) specified under Section 143(10) of the Act. Our responsibilities under those SAs are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements under the provisions of the Act and the Rules thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion on the financial statements.

Other Information

The Company's Management and Board of Directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Company's Directors' report, but does not include the financial statements and auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Management's and Board of Directors' Responsibilities for the Financial Statements

The Company's Management and Board of Directors are responsible for the matters stated in Section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these financial statements that give a true and fair view of the state of affairs, profit/loss and other comprehensive loss, changes in equity and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) specified under Section 133 of the Act. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Management and Board of Directors are responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Board of Directors either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Board of Directors is also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under Section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the company has adequate internal financial controls with reference to financial statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Management and Board of Directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the Management and Board of Directors use of the going concern basis of accounting in preparation of financial statements and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

Annexure B to the Independent Auditor's Report on the financial statements of Amazon Seller Services Private Limited for the year ended 31 March 2024

Report on the internal financial controls with reference to the aforesaid financial statements under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Act

(Referred to in paragraph 2(A)(f) under 'Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements' section of our report of even date)

Opinion

We have audited the internal financial controls with reference to financial statements of Amazon Seller Services Private Limited ("the Company") as of 31 March 2024 in conjunction with our audit of the financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, adequate internal financial controls with reference to financial statements and such internal financial controls were operating effectively as at 31 March 2024, based on the internal financial controls with reference to financial statements criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (the "Guidance Note").

Management's and Board of Directors' Responsibilities for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's Management and the Board of Directors are responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal financial controls with reference to financial statements criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Act.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls with reference to financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note and the Standards on Auditing, prescribed under Section 143(10) of the Act, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls with reference to financial statements. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls with reference to financial statements were established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls with reference to financial statements and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls with reference to financial statements included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls with reference to financial statements, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls with reference to financial statements.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls with Reference to Financial Statements

A company's internal financial controls with reference to financial statements is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial controls with reference to financial statements include those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls with Reference to Financial Statements

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls with reference to financial statements, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls with reference to financial statements to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial controls with reference to financial statements may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Disclosure of significant accounting policies [Text Block]

2.2 Summary of material accounting policies

a) Foreign currency

Transactions denominated in foreign currencies are initially recognized at the rates of exchange on the transaction date. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into the functional currency at the exchange rates as at the reporting date.

Non-monetary assets and liabilities that are measured based on historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates as at the date of the initial transaction. Non-monetary items measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value was determined.

Currency translation differences are recognized in the Statement of profit and loss.

b) Revenue

Revenue is measured based on the amount of consideration that the Company expects to receive, reduced by estimates for return allowances, promotional discounts, and rebates. Revenue also excludes any amounts collected on behalf of third parties, including Goods and Service Tax ("GST").

In arrangements where the Company has multiple performance obligations, the transaction price is allocated to each performance obligation using the relative stand-alone selling price. The Company generally determines stand-alone selling prices based on the prices charged to customers.

A description of the Company's principal revenue generating activities is as follows:

Third-party seller services – The Company offers programs that enable sellers to sell their products through its internal portal and fulfil orders through it. The Company is not the seller of record in these transactions. The commissions and any related fulfilment and shipping fees the Company earns from these arrangements are recognized when the services are rendered, which generally occurs upon delivery of the related products to a third-party carrier or in the case of an Amazon delivery, to the customer. Storage service revenue is recognized over time as the services are rendered as per the terms of the agreement with the merchants.

Subscription services – The Company's subscription sales include fees associated with Amazon Prime memberships and access to content including, digital video, digital music and e-books. Prime memberships provide the Company's customers with access to an evolving suite of benefits that represent a single stand-ready obligation. Subscriptions are paid for at the time of or in advance of delivering the services. Revenue from such arrangements is recognized over the subscription period.

Other marketplace related services primarily includes sales of advertising services, which are recognized as advertisements are delivered based on the number of clicks or impressions.

The Company provides marketing support services to related parties. Revenue is recognized over time as services are rendered.

Royalties - Royalty revenue represents revenue from licensing of digital content to related parties. Royalty revenue is recognized on an accrual basis in accordance with the substance of the relevant agreement. Royalties are determined on viewing pattern of customer by reference to the underlying agreement.

Unearned revenue is recorded when payments are received or due in advance of performing the Company's service obligations and is recognized as services are rendered. Unearned revenue primarily relates to prepayments of Amazon Prime memberships. The Company's rights to consideration correspond directly with the services provided. As such, disclosure of the Company's future performance obligations is not necessary.

c) Income taxes

Income taxes have been provided for using an asset and liability based approach. Income taxes are recognized in correlation to the underlying transaction in profit or loss, other comprehensive income, or directly in equity.

Deferred income tax balances reflect the effects of temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities and their tax bases, as well as net operating loss and tax credit carryforwards, and are stated at enacted or substantively enacted tax rates expected to be in effect when taxes are actually paid or recovered.

Deferred tax assets represent amounts available to reduce income taxes payable in future periods. Deferred tax assets are recognized only if it is probable that future taxable profits will be available to utilize those temporary differences and losses.

d) Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. Capital work in progress is stated at cost. Costs include costs incurred to acquire or construct an item of property and costs incurred subsequently to add to, or replace part of it. Depreciation is recorded on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives of the assets (five years for furniture & fixtures, three years for office equipment, eight to ten years for plant & equipment, two to five years for computer hardware and shorter of the lease term or the useful life for leasehold improvements). Depreciation expense is classified within "Depreciation and amortization expense" in the Statement of profit and loss.

Based on an internal assessment carried out, management believes that the useful lives as described above best represents the period over which management expects to use these assets. Hence, the useful lives of these assets is different from the useful lives as prescribed in Part C of Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013.

e) Intangible assets

Included in "Intangible assets" on the Company's balance sheet are amounts related to acquired intangible assets, video and music content, net of accumulated amortization.

The Company measures intangible assets acquired separately and under development at cost on initial recognition. Following initial recognition, the Company carries intangible assets with finite useful lives at cost less any accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses.

Intangible assets with finite useful lives are amortized on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives of two years for Computer software and an accelerated basis that follows the estimated usage of the content over the license term or expected useful lives of five years for digital video and music content.

Digital Video and Music Content

The Company obtains video content, inclusive of episodic television and movies, and music content for customers through licensing agreements that have a wide range of licensing provisions including both fixed and variable payment schedules. When the license fee for a specific video or music title is determinable or reasonably estimable and the content is available, an asset and a corresponding liability is recognized for the amounts owed. The liability is reduced as payments are made and the asset is amortized to "Depreciation and amortisation expenses" on an accelerated basis, based on estimated usage or viewing patterns or on a straight-line basis.

The Company also develops original video content for which the production costs are capitalized and amortized to "Depreciation and amortisation expenses" predominantly on an accelerated basis that follows the estimated viewing patterns associated with the content/ expensed as incurred where future economic benefits cannot be reasonably ascertained.

f) Impairment

At each reporting date, the Company reviews the carrying amounts of intangible assets with finite useful lives and property, plant and equipment to determine whether there is any indication that the carrying amount of those assets may not be recoverable. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is reviewed in order to determine the amount of the impairment, if any. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. Any resulting impairment charge is recorded in the Statement of profit and loss.

The Company evaluates intangible assets under development for impairment annually or more frequently when an event occurs or circumstances change that indicate the carrying value may not be recoverable.

The recoverable amount is determined on an individual asset basis unless the asset does not generate cash flows that are largely independent of those from other assets. In such cases, the recoverable amount is determined for cash-generating units (CGU) to which it belongs. An impairment loss is recognized for the amount by which a cash-generating unit's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount, which is the higher of fair value less costs of disposal and value-in-use.

g) Provisions

Provisions are recognized when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that the Company will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

The amount recognized as a provision is a best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation. If it is no longer probable that an outflow of economic resources will be required to settle the obligation, the provision is reversed. If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are discounted using a current pre-tax rate that reflects, where appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. When discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognized as a finance cost.

h) Employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits

The cost of short-term employee benefits are recognized in the year in which the service is rendered. Liabilities for short-term employee benefits, including wages, salaries, bonuses and accumulated leave, expected to be settled within twelve months of the reporting date are recognized in respect of employees' services up to the reporting date. They are measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liabilities are settled.

Defined contribution plans

The Company contributes to a defined contribution plan on behalf of its employees. Obligations for contributions to defined contribution plans are recognized as an expense in profit or loss in the year during which the related services are rendered by employees. Prepaid contributions are recognized as an asset to the extent that a cash refund or a reduction in future payments is available.

Defined benefit plans

The Company accrues retirement benefits cost for all qualifying employees based on the requirements of local laws. Retirement benefits cost is actuarially determined using the projected unit credit method.

Retirement benefits cost comprises of the following:

- Service cost
- Interest on accrued liability
- Remeasurements of accrued liability

Service costs which include current service costs, past service costs and gains or losses on non-routine settlements are recognized as expense in profit or loss. Past service costs are recognized when plan amendment or curtailment occurs. These amounts are calculated periodically by independent qualified actuaries.

Interest on the defined benefit liability is the change during the period in the accrued liability that arises from the passage of time which is determined by applying the discount rate based on government bonds to the accrued liability. Interest on the accrued liability is recognized as part of employee benefits expense in profit or loss.

Remeasurements comprising actuarial gains and losses are recognized immediately in other comprehensive income in the period in which they arise. Remeasurements are not reclassified to profit or loss in subsequent periods. The amount recognized as a defined benefit liability is the present value of defined benefits obligation at the end of the reporting period. The defined benefit liability is unfunded.

Compensated absences (Long term)

The Company treats accumulated leave expected to be carried forward beyond twelve months, as a long-term employee benefit for measurement purposes. Such long-term compensated absences are provided for based on the actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method at the year end. Actuarial gains/loss are immediately taken to the statement of profit and loss and are not deferred.

i) Share-based compensation

The Company's ultimate parent company granted selected employees restricted stock units. Restricted stock units represent the right to receive shares of common stock of the ultimate parent company, on a one-to-one basis, upon vesting. There is no exercise price associated with a restricted stock unit.

Restricted stock units vests over the corresponding service term, generally between two and five years. Unvested restricted stock units are subject to forfeiture if the holder's employment with Amazon.com, Inc. (or its subsidiaries) terminates.

Amazon.com, Inc. does not charge the Company for the cost of restricted stock units and the Company is not required to make repayments. The related compensation cost of the restricted stock units has been recorded in the Company's Statement of profit and loss with the offset to the Share-based compensation reserve.

Compensation cost for all restricted stock units expected to vest is measured at fair value on the date of grant and recognized over the service period. The fair value of restricted stock units is determined based on the number of shares granted and the quoted price of Amazon.com, Inc.'s common stock on the date of grant. Such value is recognized as expense over the service period, net of estimated forfeitures, using the accelerated method.

The estimated number of restricted stock units that will ultimately vest requires judgment, and to the extent actual results or updated estimates differ from the Company's current estimates, such amounts will be recorded as a cumulative adjustment in the period estimates are revised. The Company may consider many factors when estimating expected forfeitures, including historical forfeiture experience by grant year and employee level.

j) Financial instruments

Initial recognition and subsequent measurement

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognized in the Company's Balance Sheet when the Company becomes party to the contractual provisions of the instruments. The Company classifies financial instruments, or their component parts, on initial recognition as a financial asset, a financial liability or an equity instrument in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangement.

A financial asset or financial liability is initially measured at fair value plus, for an item not at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are directly attributable to its acquisition. Trade receivable that do not contain a significant financing component are measured at the transaction price.

A financial asset is classified based on the business model for managing the asset and the asset's contractual cash flow characteristics, as follows:

- A financial asset is subsequently measured at amortized cost if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as at fair value through profit or loss:
 - it is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets to collect contractual cash flows; and
 - its contractual terms give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.
- A financial asset is subsequently measured at fair value through other comprehensive income if it is held in a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets.
- Any financial assets that are not held in one of the two business models mentioned above are measured at fair value through profit or loss.

Financial assets at amortized cost are subsequently measured using the effective interest rate ("EIR") method. EIR is deemed to be nil for short term maturity financial assets.

The Company's financial assets and liabilities consist of cash and cash equivalents, trade receivable, other financial assets, trade payables, lease liabilities, other financial liabilities and borrowings.

The Company's financial liabilities are classified as subsequently measured at amortized cost.

Impairment

The Company applies a simplified approach in calculating expected credit losses ("ECLs"). The Company recognizes a loss allowance based on lifetime ECLs which may result from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial instrument at each reporting date. The Company estimates losses on receivables based on expected losses, including the Company's historical experience of actual losses.

Derecognition

Financial assets and financial liabilities are derecognized from the Company's Balance Sheet when the contractual rights over the cash flows are extinguished or have been transferred, provided that in that transfer the risks and benefits inherent to ownership have been substantially conveyed.

Offsetting

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the Balance Sheet if, and only if, there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognized amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, or to realize the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

k) Cash and cash equivalents

The Company classifies all highly liquid instruments with an original maturity of three months or less as cash equivalents. For the purpose of the Statement of Cash Flows, cash and cash equivalents are net of bank overdrafts, which are considered an integral part of the Company's cash management.

l) Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Ind AS requires estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, revenues and expenses, and related disclosures of contingent liabilities in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Estimates are used for, but not limited to useful lives of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets [refer note 2.2 (d) and (e)], share-based compensation forfeiture rates (refer note 27) and defined benefit obligations (refer note 28). Actual results could differ materially from these estimates.

m) Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is calculated using the Company's weighted-average outstanding equity shares. Diluted earnings per share is calculated using the Company's weighted-average outstanding equity shares including the dilutive effect of potential equity shares.

n) Leases

The Company records lease assets and liabilities for leases with contractual terms longer than twelve months. For leases of twelve months or less, the Company recognizes the rental expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term. The Company's leases generally have terms that range from five years for equipment and two to twenty years for building.

Certain lease contracts include obligations to pay for other services, such as operations and maintenance. For leases of property, the Company accounts for these other services as a component of the lease. For substantially all other leases, the services are accounted for separately and the Company allocates payments to the lease and other services components based on estimated stand-alone prices.

Lease liabilities are recognised at the present value of the fixed lease payments, reduced by landlord incentives using a discount rate based on similarly secured borrowings available to the Company. Right of use assets are recognised based on the initial present value of the fixed lease payments, reduced by landlord incentives, plus any direct costs from executing the leases. Right of use assets are tested for impairment in the same manner as Property, plant and equipment.

When the Company has the option to extend the lease term, terminate the lease before the contractual expiration date, or purchase the leased asset, and it is reasonably certain that it will exercise the option, the Company considers these options in determining the measurement of the lease. The Company remeasures lease liabilities, with a corresponding adjustment to the Right of use assets, for changes in price indices or market interest rates when there is a change in cash flows.

Right of use assets are depreciated within "Depreciation and amortization expense" on a straight-line basis over the shorter of the estimated useful lives of the assets or, in the instance where title does not transfer at the end of the lease term, the lease term. The interest component of a lease is included in "Finance costs" and recognised using the effective interest rate method over the lease term.

2.2 Summary of material accounting policies

a) Foreign currency

Transactions denominated in foreign currencies are initially recognized at the rates of exchange on the transaction date. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into the functional currency at the exchange rates as at the reporting date.

Non-monetary assets and liabilities that are measured based on historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates as at the date of the initial transaction. Non-monetary items measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value was determined.

b) Revenue

Revenue is measured based on the amount of consideration that the Company expects to receive, reduced by estimates for return allowances, promotional discounts, and rebates. Revenue also excludes any amounts collected on behalf of third parties, including Goods and Service Tax ("GST").

c) Income taxes

the underlying transaction in profit or loss, other comprehensive income, or directly in equity.

Deferred income tax balances reflect the effects of temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities and their tax bases, as well as net operating loss and tax credit carryforwards, and are stated at enacted or substantively enacted tax rates expected to be in effect when taxes are actually paid or recovered.

Deferred tax assets represent amounts available to reduce income taxes payable in future periods. Deferred tax assets are recognized only if it is probable that future taxable profits will be available to utilize those temporary differences and losses.

Depreciation expense is classified within "Depreciation and amortization expense" in the Statement of profit and loss.

Based on an internal assessment carried out, management believes that the useful lives as described above best represents the period over which management expects to use these assets. Hence, the useful lives of these assets is different from the useful lives as prescribed in Part C of Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013.

e) Intangible assets

Included in "Intangible assets" on the Company's balance sheet are amounts related to acquired intangible assets, video and music content, net of accumulated amortization.

Intangible assets with finite useful lives are amortized on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives of two years for Computer software and an accelerated basis that follows the estimated usage of the content over the license term or expected useful lives of five years for digital video and music content.

Digital Video and Music Content

The Company obtains video content, inclusive of episodic television and movies, and music content for customers through licensing agreements that have a wide range of licensing provisions including both fixed and variable payment schedules. When the license fee for a specific video or music title is determinable or reasonably estimable and the content is available, an asset and a corresponding liability is recognized for the amounts owed. The liability is reduced as payments are made and the asset is amortized to "Depreciation and amortisation expenses" on an accelerated basis, based on estimated usage or viewing patterns or on a straight-line basis.

The Company also develops original video content for which the production costs are capitalized and amortized to "Depreciation and amortisation expenses" predominantly on an accelerated basis that follows the estimated viewing patterns associated with the content/ expensed as incurred where future economic benefits cannot be reasonably ascertained.

f) Impairment

At each reporting date, the Company reviews the carrying amounts of intangible assets with finite useful lives and property, plant and equipment to determine whether there is any indication that the carrying amount of those assets may not be recoverable. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is reviewed in order to determine the amount of the impairment, if any. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. Any resulting impairment charge is recorded in the Statement of profit and loss.

The Company evaluates intangible assets under development for impairment annually or more frequently when an event occurs or circumstances change that indicate the carrying value may not be recoverable.

The recoverable amount is determined on an individual asset basis unless the asset does not generate cash flows that are largely independent of those from other assets. In such cases, the recoverable amount is determined for cash-generating units (CGU) to which it belongs. An impairment loss is recognized for the amount by which a cash-generating unit's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount, which is the higher of fair value less costs of disposal and value-in-use.

g) Provisions

Provisions are recognized when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that the Company will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

The amount recognized as a provision is a best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation. If it is no longer probable that an outflow of economic resources will be required to settle the obligation, the provision is reversed. If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are discounted using a current pre-tax rate that reflects, where appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. When discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognized as a finance cost.

h) Employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits

The cost of short-term employee benefits are recognized in the year in which the service is rendered. Liabilities for short-term employee benefits, including wages, salaries, bonuses and accumulated leave, expected to be settled within twelve months of the reporting date are recognized in respect of employees' services up to the reporting date. They are measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liabilities are settled.

Defined contribution plans

The Company contributes to a defined contribution plan on behalf of its employees. Obligations for contributions to defined contribution plans are recognized as an expense in profit or loss in the year during which the related services are rendered by employees. Prepaid contributions are recognized as an asset to the extent that a cash refund or a reduction in future payments is available.

Defined benefit plans

The Company accrues retirement benefits cost for all qualifying employees based on the requirements of local laws. Retirement benefits cost is actuarially determined using the projected unit credit method.

Retirement benefits cost comprises of the following:

- Service cost
- Interest on accrued liability
- Remeasurements of accrued liability

Service costs which include current service costs, past service costs and gains or losses on non-routine settlements are recognized as expense in profit or loss. Past service costs are recognized when plan amendment or curtailment occurs. These amounts are calculated periodically by independent qualified actuaries.

Interest on the defined benefit liability is the change during the period in the accrued liability that arises from the passage of time which is determined by applying the discount rate based on government bonds to the accrued liability. Interest on the accrued liability is recognized as part of employee benefits expense in profit or loss.

Remeasurements comprising actuarial gains and losses are recognized immediately in other comprehensive income in the period in which they arise. Remeasurements are not reclassified to profit or loss in subsequent periods. The amount recognized as a defined benefit liability is the present value of defined benefits obligation at the end of the reporting period. The defined benefit liability is unfunded.

Compensated absences (Long term)

The Company treats accumulated leave expected to be carried forward beyond twelve months, as a long-term employee benefit for measurement purposes. Such long-term compensated absences are provided for based on the actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method at the year end. Actuarial gains/loss are immediately taken to the statement of profit and loss and are not deferred.

i) Share-based compensation

The Company's ultimate parent company granted selected employees restricted stock units. Restricted stock units represent the right to receive shares of common stock of the ultimate parent company, on a one-to-one basis, upon vesting. There is no exercise price associated with a restricted stock unit.

Restricted stock units vests over the corresponding service term, generally between two and five years. Unvested restricted stock units are subject to forfeiture if the holder's employment with Amazon.com, Inc. (or its subsidiaries) terminates.

Amazon.com, Inc. does not charge the Company for the cost of restricted stock units and the Company is not required to make repayments. The related compensation cost of the restricted stock units has been recorded in the Company's Statement of profit and loss with the offset to the Share-based compensation reserve.

Compensation cost for all restricted stock units expected to vest is measured at fair value on the date of grant and recognized over the service period. The fair value of restricted stock units is determined based on the number of shares granted and the quoted price of Amazon.com, Inc.'s common stock on the date of grant. Such value is recognized as expense over the service period, net of estimated forfeitures, using the accelerated method.

The estimated number of restricted stock units that will ultimately vest requires judgment, and to the extent actual results or updated estimates differ from the Company's current estimates, such amounts will be recorded as a cumulative adjustment in the period estimates are revised. The Company may consider many factors when estimating expected forfeitures, including historical forfeiture experience by grant year and employee level.

j) Financial instruments

Initial recognition and subsequent measurement

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognized in the Company's Balance Sheet when the Company becomes party to the contractual provisions of the instruments. The Company classifies financial instruments, or their component parts, on initial recognition as a financial asset, a financial liability or an equity instrument in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangement.

A financial asset or financial liability is initially measured at fair value plus, for an item not at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are directly attributable to its acquisition. Trade receivable that do not contain a significant financing component are measured at the transaction price.

A financial asset is classified based on the business model for managing the asset and the asset's contractual cash flow characteristics, as follows:

- A financial asset is subsequently measured at amortized cost if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as at fair value through profit or loss:
 - it is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets to collect contractual cash flows; and
 - its contractual terms give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.
- A financial asset is subsequently measured at fair value through other comprehensive income if it is held in a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets.
- Any financial assets that are not held in one of the two business models mentioned above are measured at fair value through profit or loss.

Financial assets at amortized cost are subsequently measured using the effective interest rate ("EIR") method. EIR is deemed to be nil for short term maturity financial assets.

The Company's financial assets and liabilities consist of cash and cash equivalents, trade receivable, other financial assets, trade payables, lease liabilities, other financial liabilities and borrowings.

The Company's financial liabilities are classified as subsequently measured at amortized cost.

Impairment

The Company applies a simplified approach in calculating expected credit losses ("ECLs"). The Company recognizes a loss allowance based on lifetime ECLs which may result from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial instrument at each reporting date. The Company estimates losses on receivables based on expected losses, including the Company's historical experience of actual losses.

Derecognition

Financial assets and financial liabilities are derecognized from the Company's Balance Sheet when the contractual rights over the cash flows are extinguished or have been transferred, provided that in that transfer the risks and benefits inherent to ownership have been substantially conveyed.

Offsetting

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the Balance Sheet if, and only if, there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognized amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, or to realize the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

k) Cash and cash equivalents

The Company classifies all highly liquid instruments with an original maturity of three months or less as cash equivalents. For the purpose of the Statement of Cash Flows, cash and cash equivalents are net of bank overdrafts, which are considered an integral part of the Company's cash management.

l) Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Ind AS requires estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, revenues and expenses, and related disclosures of contingent liabilities in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Estimates are used for, but not limited to useful lives of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets [refer note 2.2 (d) and (e)], share-based compensation forfeiture rates (refer note 27) and defined benefit obligations (refer note 28). Actual results could differ materially from these estimates.

m) Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is calculated using the Company's weighted-average outstanding equity shares. Diluted earnings per share is calculated using the Company's weighted-average outstanding equity shares including the dilutive effect of potential equity shares.

n) Leases

The Company records lease assets and liabilities for leases with contractual terms longer than twelve months. For leases of twelve months or less, the Company recognizes the rental expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term. The Company's leases generally have terms that range from five years for equipment and two to twenty years for building.

Certain lease contracts include obligations to pay for other services, such as operations and maintenance. For leases of property, the Company accounts for these other services as a component of the lease. For substantially all other leases, the services are accounted for separately and the Company allocates payments to the lease and other services components based on estimated stand-alone prices.

Lease liabilities are recognised at the present value of the fixed lease payments, reduced by landlord incentives using a discount rate based on similarly secured borrowings available to the Company. Right of use assets are recognised based on the initial present value of the fixed lease payments, reduced by landlord incentives, plus any direct costs from executing the leases. Right of use assets are tested for impairment in the same manner as Property, plant and equipment.

When the Company has the option to extend the lease term, terminate the lease before the contractual expiration date, or purchase the leased asset, and it is reasonably certain that it will exercise the option, the Company considers these options in determining the measurement of the lease. The Company remeasures lease liabilities, with a corresponding adjustment to the Right of use assets, for changes in price indices or market interest rates when there is a change in cash flows.

Right of use assets are depreciated within "Depreciation and amortization expense" on a straight-line basis over the shorter of the estimated useful lives of the assets or, in the instance where title does not transfer at the end of the lease term, the lease term. The interest component of a lease is included in "Finance costs" and recognised using the effective interest rate method over the lease term.

d) Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. Capital work in progress is stated at cost. Costs include costs incurred to acquire or construct an item of property and costs incurred subsequently to add to, or replace part of it. Depreciation is recorded on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives of the assets (five years for furniture & fixtures, three years for office equipment, eight to ten years for plant & equipment, two to five years for computer hardware and shorter of the lease term or the useful life for leasehold improvements). Depreciation expense is classified within "Depreciation and amortization expense" in the Statement of profit and loss.

Based on an internal assessment carried out, management believes that the useful lives as described above best represents the period over which management expects to use these assets. Hence, the useful lives of these assets is different from the useful lives as prescribed in Part C of Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013.

n) Leases

The Company records lease assets and liabilities for leases with contractual terms longer than twelve months. For leases of twelve months or less, the Company recognizes the rental expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term. The Company's leases generally have terms that range from five years for equipment and two to twenty years for building.

Certain lease contracts include obligations to pay for other services, such as operations and maintenance. For leases of property, the Company accounts for these other services as a component of the lease. For substantially all other leases, the services are accounted for separately and the Company allocates payments to the lease and other services components based on estimated stand-alone prices.

Lease liabilities are recognised at the present value of the fixed lease payments, reduced by landlord incentives using a discount rate based on similarly secured borrowings available to the Company. Right of use assets are recognised based on the initial present value of the fixed lease payments, reduced by landlord incentives, plus any direct costs from executing the leases. Right of use assets are tested for impairment in the same manner as Property, plant and equipment.

When the Company has the option to extend the lease term, terminate the lease before the contractual expiration date, or purchase the leased asset, and it is reasonably certain that it will exercise the option, the Company considers these options in determining the measurement of the lease. The Company remeasures lease liabilities, with a corresponding adjustment to the Right of use assets, for changes in price indices or market interest rates when there is a change in cash flows.

Right of use assets are depreciated within "Depreciation and amortization expense" on a straight-line basis over the shorter of the estimated useful lives of the assets or, in the instance where title does not transfer at the end of the lease term, the lease term. The interest component of a lease is included in "Finance costs" and recognised using the effective interest rate method over the lease term.

Textual information (56)Disclosure of impairment of assets [Text Block]*f) Impairment

At each reporting date, the Company reviews the carrying amounts of intangible assets with finite useful lives and property, plant and equipment to determine whether there is any indication that the carrying amount of those assets may not be recoverable. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is reviewed in order to determine the amount of the impairment, if any. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. Any resulting impairment charge is recorded in the Statement of profit and loss.

The Company evaluates intangible assets under development for impairment annually or more frequently when an event occurs or circumstances change that indicate the carrying value may not be recoverable.

The recoverable amount is determined on an individual asset basis unless the asset does not generate cash flows that are largely independent of those from other assets. In such cases, the recoverable amount is determined for cash-generating units (CGU) to which it belongs. An impairment loss is recognized for the amount by which a cash-generating unit's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount, which is the higher of fair value less costs of disposal and value-in-use.

e) Intangible assets

Included in "Intangible assets" on the Company's balance sheet are amounts related to acquired intangible assets, video and music content, net of accumulated amortization.

The Company measures intangible assets acquired separately and under development at cost on initial recognition. Following initial recognition, the Company carries intangible assets with finite useful lives at cost less any accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses.

Intangible assets with finite useful lives are amortized on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives of two years for Computer software and an accelerated basis that follows the estimated usage of the content over the license term or expected useful lives of five years for digital video and music content.

Digital Video and Music Content

The Company obtains video content, inclusive of episodic television and movies, and music content for customers through licensing agreements that have a wide range of licensing provisions including both fixed and variable payment schedules. When the license fee for a specific video or music title is determinable or reasonably estimable and the content is available, an asset and a corresponding liability is recognized for the amounts owed. The liability is reduced as payments are made and the asset is amortized to "Depreciation and amortisation expenses" on an accelerated basis, based on estimated usage or viewing patterns or on a straight-line basis.

The Company also develops original video content for which the production costs are capitalized and amortized to "Depreciation and amortisation expenses" predominantly on an accelerated basis that follows the estimated viewing patterns associated with the content/ expensed as incurred where future economic benefits cannot be reasonably ascertained.

j) Financial instruments

Initial recognition and subsequent measurement

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognized in the Company's Balance Sheet when the Company becomes party to the contractual provisions of the instruments. The Company classifies financial instruments, or their component parts, on initial recognition as a financial asset, a financial liability or an equity instrument in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangement.

A financial asset or financial liability is initially measured at fair value plus, for an item not at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are directly attributable to its acquisition. Trade receivable that do not contain a significant financing component are measured at the transaction price.

A financial asset is classified based on the business model for managing the asset and the asset's contractual cash flow characteristics, as follows:

- A financial asset is subsequently measured at amortized cost if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as at fair value through profit or loss:
 - it is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets to collect contractual cash flows; and
 - its contractual terms give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.
- A financial asset is subsequently measured at fair value through other comprehensive income if it is held in a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets.
- Any financial assets that are not held in one of the two business models mentioned above are measured at fair value through profit or loss.

Financial assets at amortized cost are subsequently measured using the effective interest rate ("EIR") method. EIR is deemed to be nil for short term maturity financial assets.

The Company's financial assets and liabilities consist of cash and cash equivalents, trade receivable, other financial assets, trade payables, lease liabilities, other financial liabilities and borrowings.

The Company's financial liabilities are classified as subsequently measured at amortized cost.

Impairment

The Company applies a simplified approach in calculating expected credit losses ("ECLs"). The Company recognizes a loss allowance based on lifetime ECLs which may result from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial instrument at each reporting date. The Company estimates losses on receivables based on expected losses, including the Company's historical experience of actual losses.

Derecognition

Financial assets and financial liabilities are derecognized from the Company's Balance Sheet when the contractual rights over the cash flows are extinguished or have been transferred, provided that in that transfer the risks and benefits inherent to ownership have been substantially conveyed.

Offsetting

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the Balance Sheet if, and only if, there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognized amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, or to realize the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

31 Financial risk management

The main risks arising from Company's use of financial instruments are liquidity risk, credit risk and foreign exchange risk. Policies for managing these risks are summarized below.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will not meet future financial obligations due to a shortage of funds. The Company's financing activities are managed centrally by maintaining an adequate level of cash and cash equivalents to finance the Company's operations. The Company's surplus funds are also managed centrally by placing them with reputable financial institutions on varying maturities. The Company does not use derivatives and other instruments in its risk management activities.

The table below separates the Company's financial assets and liabilities into relevant maturity groupings based on their contractual maturities. The amounts disclosed in the table are the contractual undiscounted cash flows. Balances due within 12 months equal their carrying balances as the impact of discounting is not significant.

Total net undiscounted financial assets/ (liabilities)	4,962	(13,605)	(32,399)	(40,963)

Credit risk

Credit risk arises from cash and cash equivalents, other receivable, trade receivables and other financial assets. The Company estimates losses on receivables based on expected losses, including historical experience of actual losses.

There are no significant concentrations of credit risk, whether through exposure to individual customers and/or specific industry sectors. As at March 31, 2024 and 2023, no material financial assets were past due or impaired. The Company only deposits cash with major banks with high quality credit standing and limits exposure to any one counter-party. Trade receivable is payable within 90 days from the date of invoice.

Foreign exchange risk

Foreign exchange risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate due to changes in foreign exchange rates. The Company's exposure to the risk of changes in foreign exchange rates relates primarily to the Company's operating activities.

The Company has foreign exchange risk related to USD and EUR denominated trade receivables, trade payables, other financial assets and other financial liabilities.

Based on the balance of these items as of March 31, 2024 and 2023 of INR 1,598 million and INR 5,068 million, an assumed 1% adverse change to the USD and EUR would result in losses of INR 16 million and INR 51 million recorded to other income/ expenses. The Company's exposure to foreign currency changes for all other currencies is not material.

c) Income taxes

Income taxes have been provided for using an asset and liability based approach. Income taxes are recognized in correlation to the underlying transaction in profit or loss, other comprehensive income, or directly in equity.

Deferred income tax balances reflect the effects of temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities and their tax bases, as well as net operating loss and tax credit carryforwards, and are stated at enacted or substantively enacted tax rates expected to be in effect when taxes are actually paid or recovered.

Deferred tax assets represent amounts available to reduce income taxes payable in future periods. Deferred tax assets are recognized only if it is probable that future taxable profits will be available to utilize those temporary differences and losses.

25 Income taxes

(a) The components of the provision for income taxes are as follows:

(b) Reconciliation of effective tax rate is not reported as no tax expense has been recognised for the year ended March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023

(c) Unrecognised deductible temporary differences and unused tax losses

Deferred tax assets have not been recognized in respect of the following items because it is not probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the Company can use the benefits:

g) Provisions

Provisions are recognized when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that the Company will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

The amount recognized as a provision is a best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation. If it is no longer probable that an outflow of economic resources will be required to settle the obligation, the provision is reversed. If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are discounted using a current pre-tax rate that reflects, where appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. When discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognized as a finance cost.

l) Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Ind AS requires estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, revenues and expenses, and related disclosures of contingent liabilities in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Estimates are used for, but not limited to useful lives of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets [refer note 2.2 (d) and (e)], share-based compensation forfeiture rates (refer note 27) and defined benefit obligations (refer note 28). Actual results could differ materially from these estimates.

b) Revenue

Revenue is measured based on the amount of consideration that the Company expects to receive, reduced by estimates for return allowances, promotional discounts, and rebates. Revenue also excludes any amounts collected on behalf of third parties, including Goods and Service Tax ("GST").

In arrangements where the Company has multiple performance obligations, the transaction price is allocated to each performance obligation using the relative stand-alone selling price. The Company generally determines stand-alone selling prices based on the prices charged to customers.

A description of the Company's principal revenue generating activities is as follows:

Third-party seller services – The Company offers programs that enable sellers to sell their products through its internal portal and fulfil orders through it. The Company is not the seller of record in these transactions. The commissions and any related fulfilment and shipping fees the Company earns from these arrangements are recognized when the services are rendered, which generally occurs upon delivery of the related products to a third-party carrier or in the case of an Amazon delivery, to the customer. Storage service revenue is recognized over time as the services are rendered as per the terms of the agreement with the merchants.

Subscription services – The Company's subscription sales include fees associated with Amazon Prime memberships and access to content including, digital video, digital music and e-books. Prime memberships provide the Company's customers with access to an evolving suite of benefits that represent a single stand-ready obligation. Subscriptions are paid for at the time of or in advance of delivering the services. Revenue from such arrangements is recognized over the subscription period.

Other marketplace related services primarily includes sales of advertising services, which are recognized as advertisements are delivered based on the number of clicks or impressions.

The Company provides marketing support services to related parties. Revenue is recognized over time as services are rendered.

Royalties - Royalty revenue represents revenue from licensing of digital content to related parties. Royalty revenue is recognized on an accrual basis in accordance with the substance of the relevant agreement. Royalties are determined on viewing pattern of customer by reference to the underlying agreement.

Unearned revenue is recorded when payments are received or due in advance of performing the Company's service obligations and is recognized as services are rendered. Unearned revenue primarily relates to prepayments of Amazon Prime memberships. The Company's rights to consideration correspond directly with the services provided. As such, disclosure of the Company's future performance obligations is not necessary.

h) Employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits

The cost of short-term employee benefits are recognized in the year in which the service is rendered. Liabilities for short-term employee benefits, including wages, salaries, bonuses and accumulated leave, expected to be settled within twelve months of the reporting date are recognized in respect of employees' services up to the reporting date. They are measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liabilities are settled.

Defined contribution plans

The Company contributes to a defined contribution plan on behalf of its employees. Obligations for contributions to defined contribution plans are recognized as an expense in profit or loss in the year during which the related services are rendered by employees. Prepaid contributions are recognized as an asset to the extent that a cash refund or a reduction in future payments is available.

Defined benefit plans

The Company accrues retirement benefits cost for all qualifying employees based on the requirements of local laws. Retirement benefits cost is actuarially determined using the projected unit credit method.

Retirement benefits cost comprises of the following:

- Service cost
- Interest on accrued liability
- Remeasurements of accrued liability

Service costs which include current service costs, past service costs and gains or losses on non-routine settlements are recognized as expense in profit or loss. Past service costs are recognized when plan amendment or curtailment occurs. These amounts are calculated periodically by independent qualified actuaries.

Interest on the defined benefit liability is the change during the period in the accrued liability that arises from the passage of time which is determined by applying the discount rate based on government bonds to the accrued liability. Interest on the accrued liability is recognized as part of employee benefits expense in profit or loss.

Remeasurements comprising actuarial gains and losses are recognized immediately in other comprehensive income in the period in which they arise. Remeasurements are not reclassified to profit or loss in subsequent periods. The amount recognized as a defined benefit liability is the present value of defined benefits obligation at the end of the reporting period. The defined benefit liability is unfunded.

Compensated absences (Long term)

The Company treats accumulated leave expected to be carried forward beyond twelve months, as a long-term employee benefit for measurement purposes. Such long-term compensated absences are provided for based on the actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method at the year end. Actuarial gains/loss are immediately taken to the statement of profit and loss and are not deferred.

28 Gratuity and other post-employment benefit plans

India Gratuity Plan

The Company has a defined benefit gratuity plan in India (unfunded). The gratuity plan is governed by the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972. Under the act, employee who completes five years of service is entitled to gratuity of fifteen (15) days salary (last drawn salary) for each completed year of service. The plan is unfunded and the status is unlikely to change in the foreseeable future.

The components of retirement benefits cost recognized in the Statement of Profit and loss and the amounts recognized in the Balance Sheet are as follows:

Disclosure of leases [Text Block]

n) Leases

The Company records lease assets and liabilities for leases with contractual terms longer than twelve months. For leases of twelve months or less, the Company recognizes the rental expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term. The Company's leases generally have terms that range from five years for equipment and two to twenty years for building.

Certain lease contracts include obligations to pay for other services, such as operations and maintenance. For leases of property, the Company accounts for these other services as a component of the lease. For substantially all other leases, the services are accounted for separately and the Company allocates payments to the lease and other services components based on estimated stand-alone prices.

Lease liabilities are recognised at the present value of the fixed lease payments, reduced by landlord incentives using a discount rate based on similarly secured borrowings available to the Company. Right of use assets are recognised based on the initial present value of the fixed lease payments, reduced by landlord incentives, plus any direct costs from executing the leases. Right of use assets are tested for impairment in the same manner as Property, plant and equipment.

When the Company has the option to extend the lease term, terminate the lease before the contractual expiration date, or purchase the leased asset, and it is reasonably certain that it will exercise the option, the Company considers these options in determining the measurement of the lease. The Company remeasures lease liabilities, with a corresponding adjustment to the Right of use assets, for changes in price indices or market interest rates when there is a change in cash flows.

Right of use assets are depreciated within "Depreciation and amortization expense" on a straight-line basis over the shorter of the estimated useful lives of the assets or, in the instance where title does not transfer at the end of the lease term, the lease term. The interest component of a lease is included in "Finance costs" and recognised using the effective interest rate method over the lease term.

Textual information (81)Disclosure of effect of changes in foreign exchange rates [Text Block]*a) Foreign currency

Transactions denominated in foreign currencies are initially recognized at the rates of exchange on the transaction date. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into the functional currency at the exchange rates as at the reporting date.

Non-monetary assets and liabilities that are measured based on historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates as at the date of the initial transaction. Non-monetary items measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value was determined.

Currency translation differences are recognized in the Statement of profit and loss.

33 Fair value of financial instruments

(a) Fair value hierarchy

The Company categorizes fair value measurements using a fair value hierarchy that is dependent on the valuation inputs used as follows:

Level 1 – Valuations based on quoted prices for identical assets and liabilities in active markets.

Level 2 – Valuations based on observable inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1, such as quoted prices for similar assets and liabilities in active markets, quoted prices for identical or similar assets and liabilities in markets that are not active, or other inputs that are observable or can be corroborated by observable market data.

Level 3 – Valuations based on unobservable inputs reflecting our own assumptions, consistent with reasonably available assumptions made by other market participants. These valuations require significant judgment.

The following table shows the assets and liabilities measured at fair value at the end of the reporting period:

Particulars	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Total
	INR millions	INR millions	INR millions	INR millions
March 31, 2024
Investment in LLP	-	-	23	23

Investment is valued at the calibrated price of the recent investment.

Fair value of assets and liabilities by classes that are not carried at fair value and whose carrying amounts are reasonable approximation of fair value.

Cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables, trade payables, lease liabilities, borrowings and other financial assets and liabilities are financial assets and liabilities measured at amortized cost. The Company considers the carrying amount of all financial instruments approximate their fair value as at March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023.

Description of share-based payment arrangement

(i) Share-based compensation

The Company's ultimate parent company granted selected employees restricted stock units. Restricted stock units represent the right to receive shares of common stock of the ultimate parent company, on a one-to-one basis, upon vesting. There is no exercise price associated with a restricted stock unit.

Restricted stock units vests over the corresponding service term, generally between two and five years. Unvested restricted stock units are subject to forfeiture if the holder's employment with Amazon.com, Inc. (or its subsidiaries) terminates.

Amazon.com, Inc. does not charge the Company for the cost of restricted stock units and the Company is not required to make repayments. The related compensation cost of the restricted stock units has been recorded in the Company's Statement of profit and loss with the offset to the Share-based compensation reserve.

Compensation cost for all restricted stock units expected to vest is measured at fair value on the date of grant and recognized over the service period. The fair value of restricted stock units is determined based on the number of shares granted and the quoted price of Amazon.com, Inc.'s common stock on the date of grant. Such value is recognized as expense over the service period, net of estimated forfeitures, using the accelerated method.

The estimated number of restricted stock units that will ultimately vest requires judgment, and to the extent actual results or updated estimates differ from the Company's current estimates, such amounts will be recorded as a cumulative adjustment in the period estimates are revised. The Company may consider many factors when estimating expected forfeitures, including historical forfeiture experience by grant year and employee level.
